

The choice I made to revise my 2nd paper was to fix any formatting, spelling, and grammar errors as well as adding a new paragraph. I made this particular choice because I felt that I had to give credit to social media despite mentioning another paragraph that revolves around that aspect. I wanted to give a brief background on the effect it has on our society instead of just going right into how that particular topic relates to the black lives matter movement. In addition, I did not know of the small number of grammar errors that were present. Once I made these necessary changes everything became sufficient. I just wanted to add more clarity towards the social media spect once again because it is something that has gone a long way in one decade and the impact it has on new generations from now into the near future will increase. Lastly, I improved by adding a word to necessary phrases to further improve the clarity of certain sentences to make sure nothing was missing and that everything was clear to make sense with the flow of the paper.
